8-9:50 am

MHSE Opening Session- Basic Item Writing

Holiday Inn North: Monaco/Rainer Rooms

Speaker: Charlene Romer, PhD, RN, CNE

Facilitator: Tara Weber

Charlene Romer, PhD, RN, is a passionate nurse educator with more than 25 years of experience in her field, 15 of which have been spent in the world of virtual instruction. As a curriculum consultant with ATI Nursing, Dr. Romer is committed to sharing her expertise and partnering with educators across the country. She works under the philosophy that the more she can assist her clients, the more effective they will be at producing skilled, job-ready nurses, which in turn raises the level of quality in patient care.

Session Summary: Constructing a valid and reliable test is both an art and science. Educators need to understand how to develop statistically sound test items that measure the learners' mastery of specific content. This session will review how to design a stem and options that are clear, grammatically correct, statistically sound, and related to established student learning outcomes.

10- 10:50 am

Editing Test Bank Items

Holiday Inn North: Monaco/Rainer Rooms

Speaker: Charlene Romer, PhD, RN, CNE

Facilitator: Stephanie Pritchett, Rolla Technical Center

Educators today are juggling multiple responsibilities. To assist educators manage their time many textbook companies provide a companion test bank for a textbook. Since test construction is a time-consuming activity, using items from a test bank is an appealing option. However, many of these items may not be written to specifically meet the course objectives or at the level of knowledge appropriate for the learners' that are being tested. This session will provide educators with tools needed to edit test bank items to ensure they are appropriate to both the content and learner.

2:15-3:15 pm

Scrambled Classroom

Holiday Inn North: Monaco/Rainer Rooms

Speaker: Charlene Romer, PhD, RN, CNE

Facilitator: Mary Ann Wilson, Nevada Regional Technical Center

The paradigm under which education exists must change in order to accommodate the knowledge explosion of the 21st century. To help students learn how to manage this abundance of knowledge, a variety of instructional strategies must be employed. Two common strategies are lecture and student-focused activities in the flipped classroom, each with their own strengths and challenges. A third option is to use a scrambled classroom approach providing educators the opportunity to use the best aspects of both lecture and the flipped classroom. This session will provide educators with the knowledge and skills needed to use lecture and student focused activities in a complementary manner that turns the learning environment into an engaging, interactive experience.

3:15-4:00 pm

MHSE Vendor Session (Snacks Available)

Holiday Inn North: Monaco/Rainer Rooms

Sometimes it is difficult to focus on resources during the school year. This is an opportunity to visit with multiple vendors about available resources that could enhance your classroom or instruction.

4 – 5 pm

Active Learning Strategies

Holiday Inn North: Monaco/Rainer Rooms

Speaker: Charlene Romer, PhD, RN, CNE

Facilitator:

The traditional classroom that relies on instructor-led lecture has been challenged as to whether it prepares learners to practice in the health care environment of today and the future.. Research has determined that lectures are effective in imparting information and providing explanations that support understanding. However, this level of learning addresses only the first two levels of Bloom’s taxonomy. Engaging the learner with activities that allow them to use new knowledge, analyzing and applying it to patient-related situations will facilitate deep learning. This session will provide the educator with a variety of student-focused active learning strategies that can be integrated into the classroom allowing the learner to reflect upon and practice applying new knowledge.
