PRE-CONFERENCE SESSION

"FACS 4000 Special Projects: Working with Special Needs Students in Family and Consumer Sciences"

Sunday, July 25, 2004; 1:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Monday, July 26, 2004; 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Clarion Hotel, Springfield

Instructor:

Marcia Northrup, Family and Consumer Sciences Instructor and Family and Consumer Sciences Teacher Educator, Central Missouri State University, Lee's Summit, MO

Target Audience:

Middle and high school family and consumer sciences instructors

Brief Summary of Session:

This two-day session will focus on techniques for adapting family and consumer sciences curriculum and instruction to meet the educational challenges of special needs students. Specific information will be shared concerning the various categories of special needs and available resources and equipment. Participants will be expected to submit revised educational plans and design curriculum adaptations for use in the classroom.

NOTE: Participants may elect to register for one (1) hour of graduate or undergraduate level credit, or for CEU's for the Summer 2004 semester through Central Missouri State University. Additional assignments will be required for all those electing to take the course for graduate or undergraduate credit.

"Transitioning into the 2004 FACS Classroom: New Teachers and Teachers Returning to Family and Consumer Sciences Inservice"

Monday, July 26, 2004; 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Clarion Hotel, Springfield

Presenters:

Linda Turner, Family and Consumer Sciences Instructor, Rockbridge High School, Columbia; Charlotte Gray, Family and Consumer Sciences Instructor, Wentzville High School; Tamra McNabb, Family and Consumer Sciences Instructor, Ozark High School; and Irene Kalmer, St. Louis Community College at Florissant Valley

Target Audience:

New family and consumer sciences instructors, those returning to the field of teaching family and consumer sciences, and those who attended this inservice last year are encouraged to attend this year's session.

Brief Summary of Session:

This inservice is designed specifically for those family and consumer sciences teachers who are new to teaching family and consumer sciences and/or those returning to the field of teaching family and consumer sciences this year.

Those who attended last year's session will also find this workshop helpful. Veteran Missouri family and consumer sciences teachers representing the middle school, junior high and high school levels will provide information and handouts on a variety of topics to include:

- implementing FCCLA as an integral part of the instructional program;
- department management and team work;
- classroom and lab management; and
- professional development.

Updates on resources, curriculum and technology for family and consumer sciences also will be provided. New and returning teachers will not want to miss this workshop!

Chairperson: Beverly Plymell

Facilitators: Suzi Beck, Amy Johnson

Topic: 4Teachers - A Second Time Around HPR*TEC's 4Teachers Team would like to introduce you to some newly made-over favorites - RubiStar and QuizStar. If you liked the old versions of these tools, you'll love the second version. Even if you've never used the old versions, you'll want to see these additions. We've given you new features in RubiStar, like adding columns and downloading rubrics in an Excel file. In QuizStar, you can now upload audio and movie files, not to mention images. These new versions allow you the same great options, but with even more perks.

The Missing Link: Relationship Skills Education

Ballroom III

Presenter: Carole Delap, Outreach Educator,
The Dibble Fund for Marriage Education,
Berkeley, California

Facilitators: Session I: Tamra McNabb
Session II: Sharon Robbins

The statistics show that 90% of today's adolescents will get married someday-but that half will be divorced within seven years. Fortunately, a successful marriage is not a matter of luck-relationship skills can be learned! Teaching teens relationship skills increases their ability to create lasting relationships and marriages and has positive impact on teen pregnancy and peer conflict resolution. Participants will learn the importance of teaching relationship skills to youth, understand the current research and know how to implement relationship skills programs at their schools.

Using Hand Held Computers as an Instructional Resource

Conference Room E

Presenter: Stacey Franks, Project Coordinator,
SuccessLink, Jefferson City

Facilitators: Session I: Lori Hagenhoff
Session II: Myra McGee

Handheld computers are being used in classrooms all over the U.S. These computers (PDA's) are very powerful, inexpensive tools that schools can utilize to increase technology use in their districts. In this session, you will have the opportunity to experience several software programs and see classroom applications.

Facilitators: Session I: Rebecca Milnes
Session II: Regina Rainey

The hospitality/culinary field is one of the most exciting and challenging careers today. As well as being both challenging and rewarding, there are many different avenues that an education in hospitality can lead a newly graduated student. Hospitality employs more people than any other field in the world. We have assembled professionals from several different areas under the hospitality umbrella, who will give insight into different aspects of their careers and what your students can expect in the future job market.

ProStart - A Viable Option for Expanding Your Program

Facilitators: Session I: Billie Miller
Session II: Cathy Boyd

Hospitality industry sales will reach $440.1 billion in 2004. Restaurant sales in Missouri for 2004 are projected at over $6 billion. ProStart is a program that teaches basic culinary skills combined with basic management training to high school junior and senior students. Today's students want to learn more about food and food preparation. The course developed by the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation is currently being offered in 40 states with an enrollment near 40,000 students. An overview of the ProStart program will be presented.

The Fish Philosophy!

Ballroom I

Presenter: Peggy Spurlock, New Traditions Coordinator, Southwest Area Career Center, Monett

Facilitator: Dee Kirby

Come see Fish Philosophy! You have seen them on the travel channel ... some of you have even scheduled your vacation so you could see the World Famous Pike Place Fish Market guys up to their elbows in fish guts, working 12-hour shifts, (and you think we teachers have it tough) but somehow enjoying what they do and becoming world famous. Business and industry first started using the Fish Philosophy! but, educators have found that Fish! can be used in the classroom! The presentation will evolve around a 17 minute video with hands-on activities that you can use in the classroom and some time will be allotted to "reel in the fish ideas".

Family Changes: Understanding Divorce and Remarriage

Ballroom IV

Presenters: Kim Leon, Family and Human Development Specialist, University of Missouri Outreach and Extension, Columbia

Facilitator: Karlene Harrison

Much of the public discussion about divorce and remarriage has focused on whether they are "good" or "bad." For example, the question of whether divorce does long-term damage to children or not has been a frequent subject of debate. Looking at divorce and remarriage as processes of change can help us gain a deeper understanding of what these changes really mean for families. This workshop will focus on the family changes that occur during the divorce and remarriage process, how family members are affected by these processes in both positive and negative ways, and what families do to adapt to family changes successfully.
