Joint MoEFACS Division Meeting DESE Initiatives Impacting Educators

University Plaza Convention Center - Nebraska

All Divisions (Middle School/Junior High School, Secondary, Post-Secondary, Teacher Education, Child Care, Hospitality Cluster, Human Services Cluster

Chairpersons: 2013-14 - Jayla Smith, Chairman, MoEFACS Membership Committee, Ann Ellis, Middle/Junior High Membership Committee Representative, Tracey Newman, Secondary Membership Committee Representative, Debra Price, Teacher Educator Membership Committee Representative, Rachelle Banhart, Child Care Membership Committee Representative, Paul Santaularia, Hospitality Cluster Membership Committee Representative.

Presenter: Dr. Gale "Hap" Hairston, Director, Educator Preparation Section, Office of Educator Quality, DESE

Session Description: This session will provide an overview of three initiatives impacting educators at the state level.

Missouri Educator Gateway Assessments (MEGA) — Missouri Content Assessments by Pearson: The Department of Elementary and Secondary Education has developed a comprehensive approach for assessing the preparation of Missouri educators. The Missouri Educator Gateway Assessment (MEGA) is a series of assessments for prospective educators. The Missouri Content Assessments by Evaluation Systems group of Pearson will replace the current Praxis II Series in September 2014.

Missouri Educator Evaluation System: Research establishes the teacher as the most significant factor in a student's learning, followed next by effective leadership. Improving the learning of students requires the improvement of effective practice of those teaching in classrooms and providing leadership in schools. The Missouri Educator Evaluation System focuses on the formative development of teachers and leaders.

Student Learning Objectives: Student Learning Objectives (SLO) are measurable, long-term goals of student growth that teachers set at the beginning of instruction and aim to reach by the end of instruction. SLOs represent the process of gathering and analyzing student data, using that data to set student growth goals, and then assessing whether students have met those goals at the end of instruction. SLOs offer a formalized, collaborative process for using student growth data in evaluations, especially for non-tested grades and subjects.

Presenter: Patricia Palmer, Field Director, Operation Outreach, UMKC Center for Economic Education

Session Description: Ike and Tina Turner inspired us to "keep roll'n on the river" but teachers strap on your jet skis because there is no time for "roll'n" in this session! This session will bring a big dose of relevancy; answering your questions and filling in those "gaps" in curriculum so often discussed about insurance, identity theft, online banking and the like. What is the latest information you need for your classes next year?! Rigor: full speed ahead promoting a high level of critical thinking during this session to move Financial Literacy content beyond the textbook or even the online course-ware. Walk away with strategies for integrating rigorous informational text and research for meeting the CCSS in reading, writing and speaking. From Lexiles to CCSS alignment this session will engage and challenge YOU to torque up the content and expectations of your students towards their goal of being College and Career Ready. Advance questions on financial topics or curriculum are welcome to Patricia Palmer at palmerp@umkc.edu.
