Google for Beginners - The Basics of GAFE

EXPO Center - Hall C – 635 St. Louis Street

Presenters: Kelly Blankenship, Ash Grove High School and Darci Friberg Fair Grove High School

This interactive workshop will focus on the basic functionality and use of Google Apps For Education. Attendees will learn to navigate Google tools like Gmail, calendar, and Drive. This workshop will also help teachers create a class within Google Classroom that will help them get the year started.

"Making Mountains out of Molehills - The Art of Moving Small Words to Lofty Heights"

University Plaza Convention Center - Nebraska Room

Presenter: Andrew McCrea

This workshop is about how educators can improve their own communication skills and how they can help instruct students in improved speaking.

Problem-Based Learning

University Plaza Convention Center - Arizona Room

Presenter: Marty Sugerik

This session provides a process for design, implementation, and assessment of authentic projects that target problem-solving in our workforce. Projects do not exist in a vacuum and therefore require overt modeling, teaching, and assessment of academic, technical, and employability (College and Career Ready) skills and standards. Participants will see exemplars from around the country that have been strategically designed and customized to meet specific needs of career pathway courses.

2:40 p.m. - 3:20 p.m. (Cont.)

It's a Web 2.0 World - Engage, Interact, Learn, Publish!

University Plaza Convention Center - Illinois Room

Presenter: Gina McLachlan

How do students learn today? How do they interact with information and each other? What skills do today's students need in order to be successful tomorrow? What tools and environments do students have at their disposal? How can educators tap those tools and environments to provide opportunities for students to demonstrate what they know and can do in the target language? Come explore a variety of technologies that enable world language learners to experience the interpersonal, interpretive, and presentational modes of communication!

This workshop will feature interactive websites that allow teachers and students to organize resources, easily find new materials, create a professional learning community, and become a publisher of content - all with a few clicks and a little imagination! Find out how Web 2.0 technologies can enhance your classroom! What makes a Web 2.0 website different from a Web 1.0 website is the ability of the website visitor to create new, personalized, customized content. There are a myriad of websites, some targeted specifically to teachers and students, others not, that provide tremendous opportunity to enrich teaching and learning while connecting with others. This session will provide an overview of several Web 2.0 websites and services that have been used successfully in world language classrooms, and those uses and strategies will be shared while demonstrating the ease with which the content can be created.

Google Advanced - Grading Millennial Learners

EXPO Center - Hall C – 635 St. Louis Street

Presenters: Kristi Hodson, Carthage High School and Darci Friberg, Fair Grove High School

Using Google Apps for Education (GAPE) and Google add-ons, teachers will learn how to create, post, and grade electronic assignments and tests. In addition to saving time, there are many benefits of using Google apps to assess millennial learners: instant feedback for learners, tools for peer review, assessment data computed automatically, prepared sub-plans, tools to facilitate a flipped classroom, and preparing students for post-secondary jobs. Participants should be teachers who are already using Google Classroom; this is not a workshop for beginning users of Google or Google Classroom.

How Do You Spell FFA and Other Musings From A Retired Career Tech Educator

University Plaza Convention Center - Nebraska Room

Speaker: John Rummel, Realtor, United Country Stockton Lake Properties

A light-hearted, inspirational, and serious look at our roles as teachers in general and Career Tech teachers specifically as told by John Rummel. John is a retired Agriculture Education teacher with 27 years teaching experience. He says it will be well worth the price of admission to attend his workshop!

CONCURRENT SESSION III

Management Tips for the Lab Classroom

University Plaza Convention Center – Arizona Room

Presenters: Lexy McNew and Jordan Elmore, Ozark School District

Session Description: Lab classes can be both a blessing and a curse! They can be excellent opportunities for learning and exploration as well as a breeding ground for discipline problems. Having a well-run, organized lab class is possible, but you must have a plan. This session will offer ideas, tips and strategies for organizing and implementing procedures in the Lab Classroom setting. You will hear from a high school sewing teaching teacher who will share ideas for incorporating technology into the daily lesson and her fool proof take a number system for student help. In addition, a junior high FCS exploratory teacher will share her methods for food lab organization, and student-led evaluations during labs. If you are new to running lab classes or you feel like what you are currently doing just doesn't work, come to this session and discover a new way to manage your class.

Facilitator: Mary Matthews

2:15 p.m. - 3:15 p.m.

Integrating “Soft Skills” in the Classroom

University Plaza Convention Center – Georgia Room

Presenter: Lori Krug and Charlotte Gray, Wentzville-Holt High School

Session Description: Employers are in desperate need of employees with “soft skills,” including communication, teamwork, leadership and problem-solving. Preparing students for the “real” world by assessing their Professional Employability Skills (PES) is essential for college and career readiness. Teachers will be provided a PES rubric and ideas for activities to introduce and integrate these skills in the classroom.

Engaging and Purposeful Foods Lab Courses: Embedding STAR Events

University Plaza Convention Center – Arizona Room

Presenter: Baylee Burk, Ozark High School

Session Description: Are you looking for ways to make your nutrition/foods classes engaging, while still teaching nutrition and healthy lifestyles? Students don't always understand that FCS classes aren't just for "cooking." Attend this session to learn how to balance engaging lessons with meaningful and purposeful labs, embedded throughout an entire course. Emphasis will be placed on incorporating STAR Events into your curriculum.

Facilitator: Courtney Kuhl

New College and Career Prep and Entrepreneurship Resources from the Federal Reserve

University Plaza Hotel – Arkansas Room

Presenter: Gigi Wolf, Senior Economic Education Specialist, Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City

Session Description: This session will focus on new, free, classroom-ready resources from the Federal Reserve related to college preparation, college financing, career planning and entrepreneurship. These new resources will equip middle and secondary students to examine careers and college plans and what it takes to be an entrepreneur using research, video and interactive application tools. Through active participation and demonstration, we'll review these resources and how they can help students navigate their path to success. This session will also provide educators with engaging ways to teach college preparation and entrepreneurship through website interactives and classroom-ready lessons, which will be provided to session attendees.
