Science and Our Food Supply Projects in the Classroom

University Plaza Hotel - Kansas A Room

Presenter: Lindsey Rothrock, Logan-Rogersville Middle School

Session Description: Through a dynamic curriculum developed by the FDA/NSTA, come and learn how to implement science practices into the study of food safety in the 7-12 FCS classroom. Participants will receive free curriculum and resources and participate in a variety of lab-oriented experiences. By the end of the workshop, participants will be able to prepare and properly dispose of agar plates used in conducting food science experiments; set up, perform and differentiate a variety of food science experiments that relate to food safety; explore how food safety topics can encourage student inquiry and use higher-level Bloom's taxonomy; and become equipped to use cross-curricular activities to support FCS standards.

Bring your own fully charged device and extension cord.
