A Special Report of the KSU Entrepreneurship Roundtable

Entrepreneurship Resources for Teachers

Compiled and distributed by Kentucky State University and the Kentucky Association for Career & Technical Education

This resource list is for teachers to support your efforts to offer entrepreneurship education. While extensive, it does not claim to be an exhaustive list.

In The Round

Entrepreneurship Resources for Teachers

Compiled and Distributed by Kentucky State University and the Kentucky Association for Career & Technical Education

The Small Business Administration reports that students who participate in entrepreneurship programs demonstrate increased initiative and self-confidence. Such students are more interested in school because they see how acquiring practical skills and learning to solve problems contribute to future success.
