Granda Room

1:00 p.m. Burnout Happens: What It Is and How to Avoid It

Brad Lademann Resource Coordinator for the Missouri AfterSchool Network (MASN)

Burnout is a very real problem that is often experienced by administrators and staff in the world of education. Come learn what burnout looks like and take away strategies to help staff stay mentally healthy.

2:00 p.m. Bridging the Soft Skills Gap

Elsie Morris, Franklin Technology Center

Do you need ideas for improving students' soft skills? Soft skills are increasingly becoming the hard skills of tomorrow's workforce. This workshop will focus on strategies educators can utilize to promote the development of soft skills and the importance of these skills in preparing students for a lifetime of success. Educators will discuss the importance of teaching interpersonal and relationship building skills that help students effectively communicate and collaborate both in the classroom and on the job.

3:00 p.m. Teaching Workforce Readiness Skills for Success in a Global Economy

Michelle Conrad and Larae Watkins, University of Central Missouri

It is crucial that we ensure all students have the "soft skills" or 21st century skills necessary to work in today's interconnected economy. Together, we will examine project ideas and begin work on a global project you can use in your classroom. Please come with one curriculum project or lesson in mind that you are already planning to teach and would like to add a global dimension to. Bring your laptop or tablet. Free resources and professional development materials will also be shared.

Monaco Room

1:00 p.m. Apps with Class: Design, Don't Assign

Tonya Skinner, Jackson High School

With so many schools implementing student devices, increasing online learning opportunities and employing flipped classroom models of teaching, it's easy to think of the "app" first and the effectiveness second. In this session, learn how to better design a lesson using apps and websites that engage students. Revisit some old favorites with a new twist, such as Kahoot and Quizlet, and learn how to create effective hyperdoc lessons that incorporate a mix of web apps that will supplement learning your classroom.

2:00 p.m. Maximizing Your Marketing Materials

Rebecca Conrad, The Career & Technology Center at Fort Osage

Do you struggle with creating engaging marketing materials like brochures, postcards and newsletters? Do you have great ideas but are limited by time or a budget? This session will explore several topics in creating marketing materials, including: how to design materials to fit your audience, an overview of marketing material services and resources, creating on a budget and a review of the materials currently used by the Career & Technology Center at Fort Osage.

3:00 p.m. Registered Youth Apprenticeship

Oscar Carter, Department of Elementary and Secondary Education

Join the growing number of schools who get their juniors and seniors into the workforce and on the path to a Department of Labor credential that is recognized all over America.

Ranier Room

1:00 p.m. Going Paperless in CTE!

Krystle Gremaud and Michelle Conrad, University of Central Missouri

Ever thought about going paperless but don't know where to begin or how? Come discuss ideas and tools to help you go green! We'll share how we got started including the apps and resources we use and the challenges we've experienced along the way. Participants are encouraged to bring their great ideas, too!

2:00 p.m. The Value of the Word Wall for CTE

Beth Waldrup, Louise Lunkenheimer, Amber Jenkins, Nevada Regional Technical Center

Word Walls aren't just for Elementary students! Come learn how to implement word walls in your CTE classroom for higher levels of achievement and success. Word walls are easy to implement, fun and relevant for students and teachers alike. Get creative with your vocabulary and approach it with fresh and fun word wall activities.

3:00 p.m. Does Your Lesson Survive the Sleep Cycle?

Anne Hickman and Nichole Tews, Cass Career Center

A goal in teaching should be for your lesson to be the topic at the breakfast table with students and their families the next morning. If this happens, you know you have a lesson that has meaning for the LEARNER. The information presented in this session will attempt to help teachers design lessons that survive the dreaded sleep cycle when kids notoriously forget what they did the day before.

Atrium

1:00 p.m. Technology Integration in the Classroom

Tracey Eatherton, Ste. Genevieve High School

Our access to technology in the CTE classroom continues to grow. During this session, free technology tools for use the CTE classroom will be shared, as well as innovative strategies for using well-established technology resources. Bringing your own charged device is encouraged, but not required during this fast-paced, high energy, super-engaging presentation.

2:00 p.m. How to Implement Flipped Classrooms in CTE (90 minute session)

Sonora Jones, Carthage High School

The goal of this session is to introduce participants to the concept of a flipped classroom and allow participants to create materials that they will be able to take back to their own schools. Screencasting and other methods of implementing a flipped classroom will be modeled for participants. Participants will then have the opportunity to choose a piece of technology to use and "flip" a lesson to implement in their own classroom. Technologies that will be used or described in this session include: Screencastify, GoogleClassroom, EdPuzzle, and Flipgrid. THIS IS A 90 MINUTE SESSION.
