Andrew Chronister, Southeast Missouri State University, Unmanned Aircraft Systems Program Coordinator, will provide test materials and prepare the participants to take the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Part 107 test. The FAA Part 107 would certify participants to be remote (drone) pilots. The actual test must be taken in-person at an FAA-authorized testing center. The testing fee is $175.00 and is paid directly to the testing center. There is a testing center location in Springfield, MO.
