

CTE in New York

1.26M

jobs are open annually in New York. Career and technical education (CTE) programs prepare students for these jobs in key New York industries such as:

- health care and social assistance
- arts, entertainment and recreation
- transportation and warehousing
- tourism

In 2023, 94% of New York high school CTE concentrators pursued postsecondary education, joined the military or the Peace Corps, or entered the workforce immediately after graduation.

Many students are already enrolled in CTE in New York, developing technical, academic and employability skills and engaging in work-based experiences with industry partners. During the 2022-23 school year, New York had:

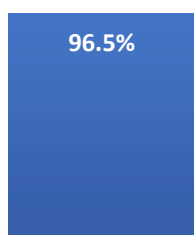

96,575

secondary CTE participants

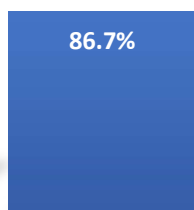

109,777

postsecondary CTE participants

These youth and adult learners in CTE programs are more engaged, graduate high school at higher rates, earn industry-recognized credentials, and have rewarding and family-sustaining careers.

CTE Concentrators

All Students

Four-year cohort graduation rate in New York (2021-22)

50,407

sub-baccalaureate credentials in CTE fields awarded to New York students (2022-23)

FY 25 Federal Perkins CTE
Funding for New York

$64,414,903

More investment is needed to scale CTE programs across New York to ensure that all learners have access to high-quality CTE programs in high-skill, high-wage and in-demand career fields.

CTE: Good for Students, Good for Business, Good for Communities