The purpose of the Quality Association Standards (QAS) is to provide benchmarks for state associations to determine levels of performance and satisfactory service to their members and prospective members. QAS should be useful to states in evaluating their basic organization and whether their leadership is providing minimum, average or superior programs for the membership. It's not intended to be a competition between states and/or to establish a "class system" of state associations, nor is it a system for rating the performance of a state's executive director or volunteer leaders.
